CUSTOMER STORY

Proteqtus Group

Protecting more than 8000 households across the Southern Hemisphere, Proteqtus is renowned for offering tailored security solutions to its clientele as well as partnering with neighbourhood watch communities. Seeing a need to build and improve communications networks across the vast rural areas they service, the natural option was Zecure.

Offering them the ideal solution for their need, Zecure provides the local community neighbourhood watch with a self-managed app-based platform that can be controlled from their mobile devices. Residents can easily detect and instantly report suspicious behaviour, threats or hostile situations from the palm of their hands.

“Good communication is critical, and Zecure is perfect for this. Everyone can become our eyes and ears, easily reporting anything out of the ordinary.”

Using the unique GeoFencing feature has been highly beneficial to Proteqtus, giving them the ability to notify residents should they enter dangerous zones. This aided in making valuable assessments to ensure that needs for additional resource or manpower required to safeguard these communities is being met.

“What we love about Zecure is that we now have an easy and effective way to communicate with our team, and they can let us know if they’re in trouble by simply tapping their phone.”
